

DESIGN OUR NEW CHILDREN'S LIBRARY CARD!

Blue

The important parts of your design should go here.

Red

This is where the card
will be cut.

Green

For best results, fill the green box and avoid unwanted white edges!

Look at the small box here and then imagine you can see the red and blue boxes inside the big green box on the right. Follow the guidelines to make your picture the best possible size for our new library cards.

We need your help to design our new library cards for children. We're asking children, young people and grown-ups too to send us a picture of what the library means to them. Obviously lots of people visit us to borrow books, but there are so many other things that you can use the library for, from using computers to colouring pictures, and painting with plant dyes to meeting amazing animals, composing music, learning to knit or even attending a show! To enter our competition, draw your picture in the box and hand it in to the library counter or post it to: Angela Boatswain at Darwen Library Knott Street, Darwen, BB3 3BU by 01.11.26. Don't forget to add your name, age and a telephone number so that we can contact you if you win. Always remember to check with a grown-up before giving out this information. The winners will receive a book token, as well as seeing their design on our new library cards being used by lots of our customers.

Terms & conditions:

- The competition is open to people of the correct age categories who live, work or attend school/college in Blackburn with Darwen, except members of the immediate families or households of employees of BwD Libraries.
- Artwork should not include images based on another artist's copyrighted work (eg book illustrations, comic strip characters, etc.) Entries which include such images will be disqualified.
- In entering the competition, you confirm that BwD Libraries has permission to reproduce your artwork on their library cards for as long as they choose to use it.
- There is a limit of one entry per person.
- One winner will be chosen from each age category unless no suitable entry is received for one or more age categories, in which case another entry from a different age category may be selected if required.
- The decision of BwD Libraries will be final, and no correspondence will be entered into.
- Entry to the competition closes on 01.11.26. The winners will be chosen by BwD Libraries, and all reasonable efforts will be taken to inform them as soon as possible after 22.11.26.
- No part of the prize will be negotiable or transferable.
- BwD Libraries will only use personal information supplied in connection with the running of this competition. BwD Libraries must provide the name and winning entry to the Advertising Standards Authority on request. Personal information will be securely disposed of when no longer required.
